JUNCTION CITY, KAN., January 25.—The severest snow storm in five years has been raging since two o'clock P. M. yesterday. The snow is two feet deep, and badly drifted. The Union Pacific Railway is blockaded.

LAWRENCE, KAN., January 25.—Senator Pomeroy, in his speech at Topeka last night, said: The South must be reconstructed on the basis of loyalty, by loyal men, after distranchising the disloyal and leading rebels. The Confederacy had surrendered everything through Lee and Johnson, reserved nothing and possessed nothing but what Grant had given them in the terms of surrender.

Senator Ross endorsed the sentiment of his colleague.

Gov. Thomas Murphy left Kansas City today with sixty-six representatives of thirteen Indian tribes of Kansas, to make treaties for the cession of their lands to this state, and the purchase of new homes in the Indian territory west of Arkansas.

There was a heavy snow storm yesterday. It is clear and cold to-day.

POLITICAL.

Governor Cox of Ohio Declines Being a Candidate for Re-Nomination for Governor.

COLUMBUS, O., January 25.—The following letter from Governor Cox was received today by General B. C. Cowen, Chairman of the State Union Central Committee:

MY DEAR SIR.—A sense of duty to my family has made me decide to return, at the close of my present term of office, to my profession, and to the care of my private affairs, which have been sadly neglected since 1859. For this reason, I shall not be a candidate for renomination, and have thought it proper to make my determination known at this day, so that the canvass may not be complicated by any doubt as to my purpose.

Very respectfully and truly yours,
(Signed) J. D. COX.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25, 1867.

THE PANIC ON WALL STREET.

The panic movement in Wall street continues. The exhaustion of margins by the decline of yesterday, caused a heavy realization movement on leading stock at both boards this morning, and a further heavy decline in prices. Erie at one time touched 36, Michigan Southern, 66, Northwestern, 51. Subsequently the market rallied upon the rumor that the Secretary of the Treasury had decided upon suspending the contraction of currency, a dispatch of that nature having been exhibited, but its accuracy was doubted. The money market was a little closer to-day since close of bank hours, and capital was not readily obtained at 7 per cent. The failures, among brokers and heavy decline in stocks during the past few days indicate much greater caution on the part of banks. Among the numerous failures reported to-day, the only cases which at present appear authenticated, are those of Howard, Lapsley, Read & Chase, and F. A. Vandyk.

FAILURES.

Millard & Struthers and James Boyd, brokers on Wall street, are among the firms reported failed to-day.

He surrendered yesterday, saying he was tired of it all, and would blow his brains out, and the placing of a pis of close to his head.

John H. Hamilton, confidential clerk for Messrs. H. & W. Simpson, Pawnbrokers, No. 193 Bogery street, was yesterday arrested on a charge of embezzling at different times, and has confessed to the amount of from $12,000 to $15,000 from his employers. Justice Chandler admitted the prisoner on bail in the sum of $10,000 to answer the charge.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

An Interesting Paper Read Before the Medical Society on the Character of the Water We Use—Its Defects and the Remedy Therefor.

At the meeting of the Allegheny County Medical Society, January 15th, Doctor N. McDonald read a paper on the "Water supply of Pittsburgh." From this very elaborate and carefully prepared essay, we make such extracts as will serve to show the character and defects of the water we use, and the means necessary to remedy whatever is injurious in our system of water supply.

THE CHARACTER OF THE WATER.

Dr. McDonald thinks that the Allegheny River at this point, contains in its natural condition as pure water as is desirable. The river and most of its tributaries have their origin in a mountainous region, and flow with a rapid current over a rocky, sandy bed. The only time in which the Allegheny water may be essentially impaired in its character from natural causes, is during the time when the amount of ice in the river is unusually great, and the Allegheny river or its tributaries, become partially dry, and ceasing to flow, the water lies in their different pools in a stagnant condition, engendering all sorts of organic matter. When it rains soon, the water, charged with all its noxious impurities, flows into the Allegheny by and by on to our basin. Such is a marked degree was the character of our water in the fall of 1854, when the cholera prevailed so virulently in this city. From the fact that the Allegheny these impurities soon float by, and are described or thrown off, still, however, the river is liable to do us much harm, and our basin is filled with such water, the organic material which is not immediately thrown off by the current, settles to the bottom of the basin, and owing to decomposition, the generations of deleterious gasses, and the solution of the mineral matter, is liable to exert a baneful influence for weeks afterwards, as there is no fair current or agitation, to such extent as to thoroughly purify and clear out, and the placing of a pin of clothe to his head.

HOW THE WATER IS NAIRLY CONTAMINATED.

But a greater evil than the one above referred to, and one not so easily avoided, Dr. McDonald thinks, lies in the fact that there are on the shores of the Allegheny, immediately above and within five miles of the city, from twenty-five to thirty-five thousand inhabitants, or several thousand more than the whole city contained when the present water works were erected. If our citizens at that time had taken their water supply from the Point, they would not have been so remiss in regulating established sanitary rules as we at the present time are in receiving our supply from the river. Nearly half of the water taken from the river is wastage. On this point he says:

"We lay pipes, construct drains and sewers to facilitate the removal of all offensive matter from the surface of the ground, and the kindly rain showers. But what do we gain by washing it away thus into our river, since it finds a no less certain though more circuitous avenue to the vital organs of the human system, by way of our waters? Again, by the valuable fertilizing matter other words we wash away all the fattening filth from our highways and byeways that we may have a good appearance, and a pleasing sight—our nostrils from the disagreeable odors and our lungs from its poisonous exhalations; but alas for the fattening of the muck that it should be neglected, forgotten and made the receptacle of a liquid, flavoring our soup, and by such forbidding, unwholesome material."

NOT A VERY PLEASING PICTURE.

In order that the liquid refuse and sewerage, drained into the river above the water works, may be more thoroughly mingled, and purified of its most important elements, "it is constituted, in the first place," he says, "of the wastage of forty oil refineries. These refineries have a capacity to refine 2,000 barrels of crude petroleum per day, and due in the process large quantities of acids and alkalies. In fact, the river above adjacent and the oil around these refineries is thoroughly saturated with oils, tannine, alkalies, &c. At all times, but more particularly when rain falls, the waste and refuse of this earthly material in which it may be incorporated, are discharged in large quantities into the river. Add to this all refuse, or sewerage, also contains, as a very important element, the repulsive putrescent offal of forty-five distilleries, and the refuse of a large number of glue factories, and you have, I believe, the principal impurities of the Philadelphia liquor traffic do not seem to be any worse than in Pittsburgh. The same financial results are certainly much better.

Strange Case—A Bride Sent to the Poor Farm.

The world is full of strange fates, and our boundrum, every day life has more tragedies in it than any romancer has conceted. One of these strange haps by which one life is wrecked utterly, another made wretched for all time, and a newly married couple estranged forever in the most revolting manner, has recently come to our knowledge.

On the 1st of May last a young woman, whose name we withhold, residing near the city with her parents, was married, after a brief courtship, to a young gentleman of Pittsburgh, who had served during the war as an officer in the Union army. For a time after their marriage, everything went smoothly, but in a brief period the bride became moody and despondent, subject to frequent fits of crying. At last she revealed to her husband the secret cause of her strange demeanor. And a most startling revelation it was, rendering it was. She confessed that during the month of March, although at the time engaged to be married to her husband, she had given away her womanly honor. She further confessed that the partner in her guilty shame was the full brother of her husband, a full negro, who had lived in the neighborhood of her home. Her unhappy fame she knew, full well, further than it was Archie, a fact which shows how easily she was tempted to ruin. Immediately the husband put the last three or four winters, at which times our water has been so thoroughly pollinated as to be unfit for drinking, but undesirable for any domestic purposes whatever."

EFFECTS OF IMPURE WATER.

Doctor McDonald quotes numerous medical authorities to show the effect—especially the diseases engendered by impure water. He attributes to it the increased tendency to typhoid fever in our city, which now prevails at all seasons, but is more particularly prevalent during the fall and winter months, at which time the water is most liable to be impatred by decomposing organic matter. He thinks typhoid fever can be spread by impure water as well as air, though comparatively of modern origin, is now almost universally accredited.

THE REMEDIES.

To remedy the evils so graphically points out, Doctor McDonald suggests "the erection of new water works and basin of larger capacity, some miles further up the Allegheny. Such a basin, not less than the present inner one, might advantageously be connected with it by pipe, thus obtaining it as a subsidiary basin. These are, however, other modes which may be deemed more advisable. It may be necessary for our Philadelphia friends before many years to procure their water supply from our purer mountain streams—the Youghiogheny or Kiskiminitas, &c., but it is our premise on this occasion to engineer a remedy; it is more particularly to show the necessity of some remedy. Lawrenceville now requires water, and the East Liberty neighborhood will also require it ere many years. In the meantime, Pittsburgh, with already large population above our Water Works is not stationary. Owing to the facilities of communication, and other advantages, our population is extending more rapidly in this direction than in any other; the increase amounting to thirty-six per cent within the last six years, and before six more years shall have passed by, should it continue to increase in the same ratio there will be between fifty thousand and sixty thousand inhabitants, a large and populous city, as it were, immediately above our water works, and with this increase of population there will be more than a corresponding increase in the impurities discharged from its entrails—the sewers—into our water supply."

Hymen vs. Green.—There came before Alderman Donaldson yesterday, Mr. M. Hymen, who took out a warrant for Mr. Green with assault and battery. Both parties occupy stands in the Diamond market, and had some high words yesterday, which resulted in Green striking Hyman, and hence the suit. Green waits upon cruckes and his touching explanation of the assault is that his cruetches slipped, and in endeavoring to check himself from falling, he threw up his arms and struck Hyman. A caring will be held.

The New License Law.

Our telegrams recently referred to a statement which Senator Bigham made before our Allegheny County delegation at Harrisburg, explaining and showing why the new license bill introduced by Mr. Peters, should be argued and adopted. Without comment we publish the gentleman's statement, as follows:

Mr. Peters' bill extends to Allegheny county the local license law of Philadelphia, there the Judges were unwilling to act as License Commissioners, and the old County Commissioners now styled City Commissioners had to be substituted. Here our Judges are unwilling to longer exercise functions which they do not deem judicial in character, and unfit on being relieved. The proposed bill following the example of Philadelphia, vests the granting of licenses in the County Commissioners. These Commissioners have all the authority to grant or refuse licenses now vested in the Judges. One of them elected each year, and the people have in their own hands the remedy. Both sides have appealed unto Cæsar—to Cæsar legislation, &c. It, however the public desire it, another entirely independent Board may be organized to grant licenses, either by election or appointment. In the Philadelphia law the amount of annual sales are returned under oath, and of course are much larger than the tax-duplicate. Ward or borough assessors estimate them in the existing law, consequently the same amount of liquors sold pays twice or three times the amount of tax to the state, and of course, under the proposed bill, the same proportionate increase to the Allegheny county treasury would follow. Under the old system three houses in Pittsburgh pay $300 each—under the Philadelphia system of annual sales, under oath, probably thirty houses will pay $300 each, consequently the same business that now pays $1,500, would then pay $3,000, and so on through the entire eight classes. This mode of estimating doubles or trippies the revenue on the same business. The financial results are certainly much better.

And this may occur, too, while the river is very low, and when the city has been no corresponding thaw farther up the Allegheny to increase the volume of its water. Such has been the case in several different occasions during the last three or four winters; at which times our water has been so thoroughly pollinated as to be not only unfit for drinking, but undesirable for any domestic purposes whatever."

EMPLOYER AND THE EMPLOYE.

In a recent article, with the above caption, we presented a brief review of the relations between the employer and employe in olden time, compared with the present, and also offered two or three suggestions of improvement. We return to the subject, as intimated at the close of the previous article, to offer some additional thoughts, on this important question, which is too little discussed now-a-days.

Difficulties of no ordinary character present themselves in its discussion, owing in part to the delicacy of the relations to each other. Circumstances, we are aware, of the most trivial nature, tend to sever it, and to this evil perhaps more than any other, is the cause why the employer fails to do anything substantial and of a permanent character, for the benefit of those in his service. If there existed more permanency in their relations, as in Great Britain, and indeed, some places in this country, with its superior advantages, and the regard workmen are held in, in the great North, then, we have no doubt, but the proprietors of our numerous mammoth manufacturing establishments, would cheerfully accord any and every facility to improve, interest and elevate their workmen. Menacing and formidable as this difficulty appears, it may be overcome. The frequent presentations by workmen, to chiefs of departments in some of our large establishments, and to the proprietors themselves, of some token of respect, and the responses usually following in the form of a grand re-union of a social character, helps very greatly to bind the two parties closer together.

However desirable such reunions may be, they fail to afford the substantial benefits which are needed, of culture and moral elevation. Many modes might be suggested, in addition to those heretofore named, by which the object might be secured. But the most we can hope for at present, is an advance step in the direction toward elevating the employer to the proper level he should attain, and one too worthy of the position he should occupy. The best we can do, then, is to select some means from the many that suggest themselves to us, which may be employed to accomplish the end we have in view.

Brief reference has already been made to the propriety of providing for lectures upon topics bearing upon the mechanic arts, highly illustrated, and accessible at little cost, or free to all proper persons. Looking at the question in its general bearing, perhaps, this should be the first step, especially for the benefit of the better class of mechanics, whose tastes and inclinations are in this direction, while other means should be used in localities where a large body of workmen are associated in some particular manufacturing establishment. Several years ago attempts were made to blend lectures on literary and popular scientific subjects, but the efforts failed, partly because the expense was too great, and from other untoward causes. Then the experiment was made when it was difficult to make any kind of lectures popular. Within the prosperous years of late, those employed in the mechanical part of our manufacturing establishments, have risen rapidly in the scale of social improvements, and have drawn around them means and facilities, which prepare them for enjoying opportunities for culture, heretofore unattained.

The attractions in the form of cheap places of amusement are rapidly increasing, and hither multitudes of young mechanics are inveigled by the baits of crafty men, assisted by the myriads of saloon iniquities of the restaurant and bar-room ilk. These evils may be counterbalanced in a great measure by those who have a controlling power over workmen. One of the most feasible propositions, and et practical worth, is the offer of a gentleman of education and of broad and generous views for our noble army of arti zans, and one, too, who has been closely identified with our manufacturing interests, to give one hundred dollars towards a fund of ten thousand dollars for the purpose of having a course of lectures on the mechanic arts, and such as have special reference to the manufacturing interests of this community. Of course these lectures are to be given by first class men, and accessible without cost, if need be. Lectures such as Agassiz gave on the coal formation, two or three years ago, illustrated by that master mind, gave unmistakable proof that such themes of practical worth could be made popular and immensely instructive. This proposition has the right ring, and it is one that the proprietors of our manufacturing establishments should cheerfully respond to, by promptly providing a permanent fund of ten or twenty thousand dollars, the interest of which may be expended towards providing such a course of lectures. Or it may be some of our manufacturers, or others, who have acquired princely fortunes, would like to inherit a name co-equal with SMITHSON, or YALE, whose good deeds will live through all time. What wealthy man wants to build a monument enduring as the world? Here is an opening. We hold ourselves ready to help forward the noble proposition of our friend, or any other that will accomplish the same object.

It will be remembered by many that the Young Men's Mercantile Library and Mechanics' Institute, was organized to accomplish certain things in connection with a public library and reading room, namely, to promote the interests of the mechanic arts. The original founders intended to foster this spirit in the broadest sense. Provision was not only to be made for supplying suitable reading matter, but a place was to be set apart for models, the products of inventions in our midst. Causes known to many and better withheld from print, have occurred, which unmistakably indicate that the latter part of the incorporated title of the institution merely exists in name and not in fact. The evil cannot easily be remedied now, without revolutionizing the entire policy of the institution. The only remedy is the establishment of a Mechanics' Institute, such as they have in Cincinnati and other cities, combining all the necessary departments for reading and library room, and a lecture hall. The fact that this is the greatest manufacturing district in this country, the want of such an institution is a reproach to us, and one which should be removed as speedily as possible.

The vast number of mechanics that grace our manufacturing establishments need all the facilities that are possible for them to keep pace with the progressive steps of the age, and besides, the more highly they are educated and polished the more competently they will fill their position and ornament society, and those who will take up the "westward march," to help make the mighty far west, "blossom as the rose," need just such facilities. To our large hearted manufacturers these vital matters challenge attention, and we believe the call will not go unheeded.

In a more restricted sense our manufacturers have it in their power to accomplish incalculable good, not only to their workmen, but to their families. This may be done in various ways. First and foremost let provision be made in some building connected with the establishment for a free reading room, and if possible, attach a library of well selected books, combining all the comforts of a well organized reading and library room. The expense would be overbalanced by the benefits which would flow from the use of such means. Associated with these, a literary society might be organized, and be productive of much good, especially to the young men. These places in their turn would augment the social element among the men, and the families of the married workmen would share in the benefits. Coupled with these means occasional lectures might be provided at a slight cost.

By such modes as these, employers would bind their workmen closely to their interests, and, instead of the flimsy connection too frequently existing, the union would not be severed from any slight cause. Men would ponder well the step of sundering pleasant relations, such as we have known. It is said JAY COOKE, the eminent banker, has provision made in connection with his banking house, for his employes to dine, in order to protect them from the snares and temptations incident to those places where many frequent to dine. Food for the mind we believe is provided as well as for the body. No sinister motives prompt him to this generous course. Such acts on the part of an employer commends itself, besides the moral benefits of such a course. The theme will bear enlargement, but we must forbear.

UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY, EASTERN DIVISION.

We invite attention to the notice of the Treasurer of this Company in our advertising columns, that the interest on the first mortgage bonds will be paid in gold on the first day of February, at the office of Jay Cooke, in Philadelphia.

The financial condition of this road is very good. None of the stock is in the open market, and cannot be purchased except at a heavy premium. Of course the mortgage bonds are as good as any stock in the country bearing the same interest. But the progress of the road, as a great national thoroughfare, is what most concerns the public at large. We know that the road is progressing, even now in the winter season, with great rapidity, and have do doubt but that in May next it will have reached Fort Ellsworth, nearly a hundred miles beyond Fort Riley, and that in another year Denver will be reached.

We are glad to see that the authority of Congress has been asked for this company to go by an independent route to the Pacific, and also to construct branches to New Mexico, to Arizona, and to the Gulf of California. We hope the desired authority will be promptly granted; for it is certainly the true interest of the country that there shall be at least two great competing lines of railway between the States of the Mississippi Valley and those of the Pacific. Moreover, nothing but such avenues as these can ever develop the great interior drained by the Colorado, and render its boundless mineral wealth available.

GENERAL NEWS.

—The Philadelphia street cars carried 46,221,499 passengers last year, and received ed $2,808,741.

—The ludicrous situations devised by the Fenians ought to furnish material for a dozen jolly comedies.

—The remains of the ex-rebel , Gen. Barksdal, have been removed from the field o Gettysburgh to Mississippi.

—An old gentleman, sixty-four years of age, and a wife lady of seventy-one were married at Paris, Ky., about two weeks ago. Wonder which one of them it was that had the money.

—A freedman eloped to North Carolina with a freed girl, whose parents objected to a marriage, and the couple were spliced by a North Carolina magistrate. First instance on record of "such doings."

—A son of widow Hastings, aged about fifteen years, of Brainard's Bridge, Rensselaer County, while skating on a millpond near his residence, a few days ago, ran over the dam, striking on his head with such force as to cause instant death.

—The National Banks of North Carolina all seem to be doing a prosperous business. The National Bank at Charlotte has declared a dividend of ten per cent. from its earnings for the past six months, and carried five per cent. to the reserve fund.

—At nine o'clock on Tuesday morning, while the sun was shining brightly and the atmosphere presented a hazy appearance, several citizens of Winchester, Va., witnessed the remarkable phenomenon of a man living in the heavens at that unusual time.

—A feud between two families, of twenty years' standing, which had cost fourteen lives, was ended on Saturday, at Elizabethtown, Tenn. Two men, the sole surviving males of the families, quarrelled on the street, and their altercation resulted fatally to both.

—Adam Feathers, an aged citizen of Sandlake, was frozen to death on Thursday, while on his way from Troy to his home. He was driven homeward by a boy in his sleigh, but left it for some reason, and was subsequently found dead in a field about a mile from his house.

—A gentleman in Orange county, Va., who holds fifty thousand dollars in State bonds, proposes to surrender half of them to the State if the Legislature will agree to pay him the interest on the remainder. He advises other holders of bonds to make a similar proposition.

St. Augustine, Florida, is said to be a delightful residence. The Examiner, of that place, speaking of the great crop of oranges, says that 60,000 will be picked from one grove. A gentleman there writes that "they hang in rich yellow clusters from trees on the sides of the streets, and the soft air is redolent of their rich perfume."

—A sister-in-law of the member of Congress from St. Joseph, Missouri, publicly declares that she went to see four rebels hung. The woman was enceinte at the time, and soon after a son was born to her whose tongue lolls continually from his mouth, and whose neck bears the appearance and and goes through the convulsive motion of one in the final agonies of suffocation.

—The Springfield (Illinois) Register says "John Logan expressed the general appreciation of the present senator when he said, the other day, when asked the question who he was for: 'Why, for Our Trumbull all the time, and for this reason—he can live cheaper than any of the rest of us. When the job was whether General Ill Quality Palmer or myself are in Washington, we shall have to buy ice; but all Trumbull has to do is to sit down in a tub of water and freeze all he wants."

—When Governor Andrew sent the Massachusetts girls to the Pacific Coast to supply the want of femininity in that region, he said that they need not marry immediately, but could find plenty to do in teaching the little children. Anna Dickinson "can't see it." She says: "How the little children were to come from out of a population of ten thousand men was more than she could imagine, but, she thought that probably Governor Andrew, being a man, might be able to do so."

READ THE CERTIFICATE OF

REV. R. T. FLUALIN.

"To Dr. HOSTETTER—Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was taken with the dyspepsia a year ago last March, and for a period of eight months, was one of the most miserable creatures you ever beheld—not being able either to eat, drink or s eep, and was compelled to walk the floor incessantly. I was nearly deprived of my reason, and hope had entirely left me, all the efforts in me for my recovery having proved fruitless.

By the first of November, 1865, I had become so weak and feeble that I could scarce y stand alone, and, to all appearance, would soon die. At this time (by the merest accident in the world), my wife prevailed upon me to try your Bitters. A bottle was procured, and, strange to say, I soon commenced recovering. I have taken four bottles, and am enjoying as good health now as could be expected for one of my age (about sixty years). I have no doubt that it was your Bitters alone, under Divine Providence, that effected this wonderful cure.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

To the Sheriff of said County, Greeting:

Whereas, Samuel A. Long, lately in our District Court, before our Judges of said District at Pittsburgh, to wit: On the 8th day of January, A. D., 1867, by his judgment of said Court recorded against John E. Anderson, administrator of Louis A. D'Lara, deceased, a certain judgment for the sum of twenty-one hundred and ninety-nine dollars for his debt, as well as twenty dollars for his costs, and charges in that behalf expended, whereof the said John E. Anderson, administrator of Louis A. D'Lara, deceased, as aforesaid, appears to us of record; and whereas, by the limitation of the said Court, a Levy, we find, cannot be had upon the said goods and chattels of the said defendant, but although the judgment in form aforesaid be given, yet execution thereof ought not to be made, whereof he has brought us to grant unto him in this behalf proper remedy, and we being willing that what is right and just should be done, herein do command you that by good and lawful men of your bailiwick, you give notice to the said John E. Anderson, administrator, &c., of Louis A. D'Lara, deceased, that he be and appear before our Judges, at Pittsburgh, at our District Court, to be holden there the second Monday of next month, to show, if anything he has or can say why the said Samuel A. Long, the said plaintiff ought not to have his execution thereof aforesaid, and why the said writ of execution should not be had, to the end and effect that the said Court may further cause to be done thereupon what of right and according to the law and custom of the United States ought to be done. And have you then there the names of these writs, and how you shall make known to them, and this writ.

Witness, the Hon. JAMES M. WAYNE, President of our said Court at Pittsburgh, the 19th day of January, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

Interesting Oil question.

The Harrisburg correspondence of the Philadelphia Ledger contains the following: There are numerous oil companies organized under the laws of this State, whose property is beyond our borders. To save appearances they have purchased a few acres in Pennsylvania, but under statues they are taxed upon the full amount of their capitol stock, dividends and income. They have prepared a bill requiring the auditor General, when not more than one-tenth of their real estate is in this Commonwealth, to charge but one-tenth of the taxes now collected. This reduction, however, cannot be made unless the President, Treasurer and a majority of the Directors shall be citizens. The bill is now being considered by a committee. During the last session in 1865 many persons who organized companies fixed the par value of their stocks far above the subscription price, and naturally at an enormous increase over the actual cost value of the property. This stock having passed into the hands of innocent third parties, they are now obliged to pay taxes upon the fictitious or par value. This is under the act regulating mining companies, passed in April, 1858, and applies only to companies organized under that law. It is now proposed by Mr. Wham, representing Venango, county, to require tax only to be levied on the amount of capital stock actually "paid in." The bill to be collected out of the first netreaings of the companies, and before any dividends are declared.

A Pittsburgh Colored Woman's Devilry.

The Johnstown Tribune says: On Wednesday afternoon last, during the brief absence from her residence of Mrs. George Statler, of the Fifth ward, a colored servant woman in the family, named Mrs. Emily Howard, who had been left in charge of the two youngest children, conveyed to the house of a colored neighbor several articles of Mrs. Statler's wearing apparrel, including a crape shawl and silk dress, and then poured coal oil upon the best bed in the house and set fire to it! She also threw a lot of clothing hanging against the wall of the room. Having done this she raised an alarm of "fire!" The neighbors rushed in, but not in time to prevent the feather-bed bed clothing, carpet, blinds Mr. Statler's best cloth suit, a number of dresses of value, several oil paintings, and other articles from being consumed. Had the alarm been delayed a few minutes, the whole house, which is partly occupied by Alexander Kennedy, would have been burnt, with, probably, Mr. Statler's two little children. Mr. Statler informs us that Mrs. Howard, who hails from Pittsburgh, has been in his employ for some time, and has represented his wife as a faithful domestic. Hence the confidence reposed in her.

A Lucky Man.

A Beaver exchange has the following: Mr. John Brittain, of Fallston, this county, who unit: raised that place several years ago from the Lackawanna district, has been suddenly overtaken by good fortune. Many years ago, he purchased a track of several hundred acres of mountainous land in the Lackawanna County, for a mere trifle, which he abandoned as worthless when he came to this county. He had a small furniture store in New Brighton, which was swept away by a large family—his chief wealth until a few days since, when he found himself the commander of a moneyed fortune. His Lackawanna mountains, it contained, eight feet vein of anthricite coal, have bitted up against a railroad and fell under the eyes of a company of capitalists. Mr. Brittain was hunted up by the said capitalists, and offered $75,000 for his mountains, or $5,00 a year and a royalty on the coal. It is estimated will amount to something like about $10,000 per annum. Our poor neighbor of yesterday has accepted the latter proposition, and is to-day one of the moneyed men of the county.

Heavy Bail.

The Brownsville Clipper tells the following, the amount of Bail required is probably stated in round numbers: Some days ago two brothers named Jeffries made a violent and unprovoked assault upon an inoffensive colored man (mistaking him for one with whom they had a difficulty,) and severely maltreated him. A warrant was issued for their arrest and placed in the hands of constable Foust, who attempted to arrest the villains, but was resisted, and, with the assistance of a pack made upon him, injuring him severely. He called loudly for help but none was offered in time to prevent the rascals from succeeded in making their escape. The cries of the officer for help attracted quite a number of citizens, though, by the time they arrived on the ground, Foust, his assailants, who were by this time fleeing, but he was also violently assaulted, and struck with a quart bottle filled with whiskey, lacerating his face in a shocking manner. One of the desperadoes was subsequently arrested, and Mr. Foust, and held in $15,000 bail to answer at Court. It is believed the other will also be arrested.

Frozen to Death.

The Canton (O.) Republican says: Old Jacob Shook, who lived alone in a small tenement, back of the carriage shop, was found lying dead on the ground in his back yard, frozen to death, on Friday last. It appears that he went out for some purpose, and remaining out till chilled through, partially paralyzed by the cold, he fell down. The frozen in the snow that he was unable to get up and walk a few steps, when he fell again. After a few struggles the vital fire went out and his limbs stiffened in a sitting.

Deceased was a bachelor, and is supposed to have been about eighty years old. He had no relatives in this section. He had been in the employ of Mr. H. H. Myers, and of Mr. Myers' father for forty years. During the latter part of his life he has been a pensioner upon the charity of his old employer.

Killed.

The Wilkesbarre Record of the Times says: "On Thursday a miner, named John Perry, was killed at the Mineral Spring Mining Company's slope, at Laurel Run. A car was carelessly pushed off of the top of the inclined plane at the slope without being attached to the rope, and as it rushed down it struck Perry, and fatally injured him between it and the car at the bottom. A blast had just been let off and the mine was full of smoke, so that the driver did not see which track the car came on. In springing out of the way he was caught and death was instantaneous.

Perry was from Wales, probably thirty years old; his wife had just followed him a few weeks ago, and is left without children or friends.

A Death Bed Confession.—A man writing from Oil City tells this story: On January 8th, 1867, John Franklin Worley, a resident of this place for about two years, died from the effects of a wond received at the battle of Antietam. On his dying bed he stated that four years ago he left a wife and two children near Janesville, Clearfield county. And now he leaves another wife and two children in this place, she not knowing that he was married before. He could not die without revealing the facts to her and asking for forgiveness, as well as that of his first wife. I bought it right to publish this statement for the information of his wife and companion and fatherless children.

Ornament the Parlor.—Suspend an acorn by a cotton thread so as nearly to touch the water in a glass vessel (a hyacinth glass is perhaps the best), set upon the window or mantel, and let it remain there for eight or ten weeks, more or less, without being interfered with, except to supply the evaporation of the water, and the acorn will burst, and as it throws a root down into the water, a sprout or stem will be sent upward, throwing out beautiful leaves, thus giving you an oak tree, in full life and health, within your parlor.

Enterprising.—They must have enterprising thieves in Columbus, according to the Journal. It says: A gentleman on Tuesday bought a large brass kettle and put it to immediate service. After using, it was placed just outside the door to cool off, when some man wanting an article of the kind, picked up the hot kettle and carried it off. The loser is inclined to think that brass kettles must be current funds, as they change hands about as quickly as United States currency. He declines to give quotable rates, but reports a brisk business.

Of Course.—A female domestic in the employ of Mr. H. Ewing, of Beaver, to hasten the burning of a fire in a stove last Saturday morning, resorted to the fashionable expedience of pouring oil upon it from a can. The result, as usual, was an explosion and the wearing of bandages on the face. She had sufficient presence of mind to wrap herself pp in a blanket and extinguish the flames, thus preventing serious consequences.

Painful Accident.—We learn that a serious accident happened to Robert Smith, Esq., and wife, of Franklin township, Fayette county, on Wednesday of last week. While out sleighing their horses became unmanageable, ran away, and dashed the sleigh violently against a stump, breaking Mrs. Smith's thigh and shoulder, and otherwise bruising and injuring her. Mr. Smith was also considerably but not seriously injured.

Huge Sleighing Party at Massilon, Ohio.—It has been estimated by some one that the sleighing on Wednesday, the 16th, cost the Massilonians $500, and that the party numbered over 200. The horse flesh, sleighs, &c., in the procession were worth at least $25,000. There were fifty-one sleighs.

Severely Burned.—Miss Jennie Hellen, daughter of P. H. Hellen, of Uniontown, met with a most distressing accident recently by her clothes taking fire from the grate. Her clothes were consumed and she was frightfully burned, but is now doing well and in a fair way to recover.

The "Morning Glory" can be propogated in parlor windows, where there is some sun, to perfection during winter; it flowers with its naighborly colors, and the delicate little vine can be made to run over the window. A hanging vase is the prettiest for this.

A Long Time at Home.—Jacob Grabill, of West Earl township, Lancaster county, died on Sunday morning last. The deceased was a farmer, was born and resided during the whole period of his life on the place upon which he was born.

Another Chimney.—Brick chimneys must be scarce articles in Petroleum Centre. The second one was built within a year.

Benefit of Father Kemp!

Hurrah! A grand gala night at Masonic Hall! Father Kemp, the persevering manager of the "Old Folks," takes a benefit this evening, and a programme has been prepared that will outshine all previous efforts. New songs, quartettes, and choruses, have been critically prepared, and no stone left unturned that would add to the interest of the occasion. Our citizens are eager to show their appreciation of Father Kemp's efforts to place before the public such excellent entertainments, instructive and moral, and will give him a rousing house this evening. Remember, too, it is the last chance to hear this company. Rally then to Masonic Hall and give them a farewell, the remembrance of which will long live in their hearts, and induce them again to visit us, and revive those pleasant associations which have existed between us during their stay.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. Geo. L. McCook, Physician to the Board of Health, makes the following report of the interments in the city of Pittsburgh, from January 15th, to January 26th, 1867:

Typhoid pneumonia, 1; congestion of lungs, 1; strangulated hernia, 1; general debility, 1; tubercular phthisis, 1; hemorrhage of lungs, 1; typhoid fever, 3; pulmonary consumption, 1; polypus uteri, 1; pneumonia, 2; inflamation of brain, 1; intermittent fever, 1; enteric fever, 1; still born, 1; inflamation of bowels, 1; catarrh fever, 1; capillary bronchitis, 3; diphtheria, 1; whooping cough, 2.

Of the above there were: Under 1 year, 5; from 1 to 2, 4; from 2 to 5, 3; from 5 to 15, 1; from 15 to 25, 2; from 30 to 35, 3; from 40 to 50, 2; from 60 to 70, 2; from 70 to 80, 2. Males, 15; females, 17; white, 28; colored, 4; total, 28.

Committed for Trial.—George Thompson, charged with misdemeanor on oath of Jacob White, had a hearing before Alderman McCarthy yesterday morning, which resulted in his being committed in default of $500 bail at Court. Thompson will be remembered, is charged with breaking a sleigh and overdriving two horses, the property of E. S. Whig, contrary to the Act of Assembly relating to livery stable keepers in Allegheny county, and approved August 23d, 1865. Thompson hired the sleigh from White, who is a livery stable keeper in Manchester, on Wednesday, and when he returned it, it was in the condition stated above.

Street Loafing.—The corners of Fifth and Wood, and Fifth and Smithfield streets, are the professional loafers of this city as a sort of general rendezvous. It is the first place one of the fraternity makes for when overdosed with whisky. On Wednesday evening, three of the class, who would not move on, although they had no board in the house, got out of whisky, and were in consequence riotous, were arrested and sent to jail by the Mayor for a month, to cool off and sober up.

A Slight Fire.—A fire occurred yesterday morning, at ten o'clock, in a building occupied by Elijah Hall, as a drinking saloon, on Smithfield street. The fire originated in the chimney of the top of the roof, communicating therewith, and burning a small hole to the surface before extinguished. The damage has been done by fire to stranger; loaded to that amount. The discovery was made just in time to save it from being a very serious affair.

Horse Fanciers.—Seven horses and three buggies were stolen from different stables in Sewickley and Sewickley on Wednesday night. On Thursday morning five of the horses were picked up in Allegheny, in a condition that showed hard usage. It is thought that the balance of the stolen stock will be found astray in the vicinity.

Commendable.—Mr. C. D. Hutchings has established an evening school at Meadville, for colored students, in a room over the store, where he teaches them free of charge. Mr. Hutchings is the superintendent of the Sunday School of the African Methodist Church in Meadville.

New County.—An effort is being made to construct a new county out of parts of Armstrong, Butler, Venango and Clarion, with Brady's Bend as the county-seat.

MY POLITICAL PLATFORM.

Kind friends and patrons all, I ask your close attention.
I have a stock of Boots on hand, thousands of different sizes,
Which I can well afford to sell at the very lowest prices.
A lot of Boots and Shoes, of French and German manufacture,
Which none would be afraid to wear, in coldest winter weather.
My Prices and Terms are of the best, it really is surprising,
That I can sell so very cheap, while prices still are rising.
My stock is of the very best the trade did ever produce,
My Shoes are for the cheapest since the prices I did reduce.
Then seek your own advantage and come to me and buy,
And what my stock is all sold out I'll get a fresh supply.
Since trade is so plenty now, and greenbacks in good credit,
Do come and see some bran new Shoes, you never saw the like of it.
Cold winter now is at the door, when the old foot wear has gone,
And if your shoes have sprung a leak, do come and get them mended.
Then call at the popular Palace Emporium,
Nos. 25 and 28 Fifth street.

DISTRICT COURT—No list made out.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

This Court met on Friday morning at the usual hour, ten o'clock,

On motion of District Attorney Carnahan, Noah W. Schaffer, Esq., was admitted and qualified to practice in the United States Court.

We were a little previous in announcing the discharge from recognizance of Daniel J. Link, charged with perjury, on Wednesday. The cause was called yesterday, the circumstances as detailed by us stated to the Court, a nolle pros. entered, and the accused discharged.

Joseph Weaver, against whom an indictment was found for passing counterfeit national currency, is alleged, on attempt to "jump his bail," and was arrested and lodged in the city tombs on Thursday night. Yesterday he was brought into Court, and having been formally surrendered, was committed to the county jail to await his trial. He had been held in three thousand dollars.

BILLS RETURNED.

The Grand Jury returned the following bills:

United States vs. Wm. D. Hunt and Marcus Hughes, indicted for passing counterfeit National currency, "ignored" as to Hughes, and "true bill" as to Hughes. This is the second bill, the first being found to be defective.

United States vs. James L. Graham, Andrew Ackley, John Riddle, Frank Tilman, and others unknown; indictment, carrying on the business of bankers without license; "true bill."

United States vs. John Meyers, indictment, manufacturing cigars without license; "true bill."

United States vs. Thomas Davis; indictment, buying counterfeit National currency; "true bill."

CASE PROCEEDS.

The trial of George H. Williams, for passing counterfeit National currency, with intent to defraud James Wiggins, was proceeded with. Very able arguments were made in behalf of the accused by Messrs. Swartzwelder and Hampton. District Attorney Carnahan discharged the duty to the Government, and after an exceedingly fair and impartial charge from the court, the jury retired, and returned with a verdict of "not guilty," and the prisoner was discharged by proclamation.

COMMITTED FOR BAIL PENDING.

Information has been made before Commissioner McCandless against W. D. Hunt and William Hughes, of Titusville, for passing counterfeit fractional currency. Col. Kerr, their counsel, stated the circumstance that bills against them, framed upon information taken before Commissioner Mowbray, of Titusville, had been ignored. He asked the discharge of the accused, and was proceeding to summarize upon some party concerned in the prosecution, when he was interrupted by the Court, and the defendants held to bail in the sum required to give bail in the sum of $5,000 for their appearance at the May term for trial.

ANOTHER COUNTERFEIT CASE.

Joseph Weaver, the individual alleged to have attempted to "jump his bail," was arraigned upon an indictment charging him with passing, on last Christmas day, a $20 National Bank note, with intent to defraud John L. Hager tavern keeper on Penn street, in Lawrenceville. The passing being fully proven, he dined at Hager's with Napoleon Morgan, and offered in payment for the meal the note in question. Another witness testified to the accused having offered him a note of the same description. Chas. Morrison and wife, of Birmingham, testified that a man answering the description of Weaver, excepting that he had a moustache, was at their residence on the evening of Christmas, and that he had given in payment for an article purchased by him, a counterfeit $20 National Bank note. Officer Herron testified that the accused when arrested had a moustache. The case was not concluded at adjournment.

The Grand Jury were discharged from further attendance, having disposed of all the business brought before them.

Court of Common Pleas.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

In the case of H. M. Bole & Co. vs. Frederick Batusman, the jury, on Friday morning rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $1,052 71.

William Burnside vs. Rourke and Clarke. Action to recover $20 65, alleged to be due plaintiff in settlement of accounts. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $21 50.

Catherine M. Hartman, administratrix of John Hartman, deceased, vs. Christian Allwater. Action to recover $100, with interest, from August 1th, 1865, which amount the deceased had obligated himself to pay decedent in sixty days from that date. Defendant claimed that he had paid the amount, and had a receipt for the same. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for one dollar and a half.

The entry made on the minutes of the District Court, relative to the death of David Ritchie, Esq., was ordered to be made on the minutes of the Common Pleas, on motion of James S. Kuhn, Esq., seconded by A. M. Brown, Esq.

District Court.

Before Hon. Moses Hampton.

The writ case of Hoffnick et. al. vs. Denniston et. al., taken up on Thursday, continued on trial on trial on Friday, and was not concluded at adjournment.

James L. Kuhn, Esq., announced the death of David Ritchie, Esq., one of the Attorneys of this Court, and moved that in respect to his memory the Court now adjourn, which motion was seconded by Thos. PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, January 18, 1867.

There are no new characteristics in the metal market worthy of special notice. The demand continues exceedingly limited, and as will be seen below, the transactions are very light, and hardly worth recording. How long this state of affairs will continue it is a difficult to conjecture, but one thing is certain, no improvement will take place until the mills resume operations, and when that will be, time alone will develope. As yet, the puddlers and mill owners have come to no understanding in regard to wages, but it is believed that this can be arranged at the proper time with but little difficulty, and we have no doubt when orders for manufactured iron begin to accumulate a little, the mills will start up again and pleasant relations will again exist between both employers and employees. The following are all the sales we have reported:

50 tons No. 1 Juniata Metal...$57 00—4 mos
50 do Anibroscia Foundry...p. t.
50 do No. 1 Juniata Blooms...115 00—4 mos
20 do do do do p. t.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, January 25.—The fresh receipts of beef cattle at the Union Stock Yards today are 487 head. Entered sales, 240 head, at prices ranging from $3.00@5.00 for common cows and bulls, and from $5.00@6.25 for good to choice smooth shipping beeves. The market is moderately active, but prices have experienced no particular change, the quality of the stock offered is of a better description, and will sell better than "scalawags," which are a drug.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, January 25, 1867.

CRUDE—The Crude market was a little more active, that is the transactions were comparatively large, but prices, if anything, are lower, and there is no disguising the fact that the tendency is downward. We can report a sale of 800 barrels, on the spot, at 8½; 110 bbls "Smith's Ferry," at 9; 1 car load on board cars, and five thousand barrels for April and May delivery, on private terms. The unfavorable character of the advices from the east, as well as from Europe, are having a depressing effect on the market, both for present and future delivery, and, compared with a few days ago, holders are more anxious to contract ahead.

RIVER NEWS.

Quite a change in the atmosphere was noticeable yesterday forenoon, and about noon a light drizzling rain set in which continued almost without cessation during the afternoon, and in the evening it looked as though it might last throughout the night. Serious apprehension of a flood are entertained and if the present heavy snow should be taken off suddenly with a rain, we shall have a river the like of which, in all probability, has not been seen since the great flood of '61. It is to be hoped that the snow will go off gradually, and thus avoid a great destruction of property, and, possibly, loss of life.

We clip the following from the Mound ville, (West Va.,) Journal:

The river has been closed on Friday night last, with not less than fifteen feet of water in the channel, the oldest boatman on the river says he never knowed it to freeze over when the river was so high before. Barges and other boats between here and Cairo are fast, and will be in condition—whether they will be crushed to pieces depends altogether when and how the break comes.

We clip the following additional particulars in regard to the sinking of the Platte Valley, from a late Memphis paper:

Mr. James Hall, an experienced pilot, was at the wheel of the ill-fated vessel when she struck. Mr. Hall says he knew where the wreck lay, but says the boat took a "sheer" on him. She sunk in thirty feet of water, and went down in five minutes after striking. She lays three hundred yards below the wreck of the gunboat, and two hundred yards from the Arkansas shore, with her bow up stream. She lays straight in the channel. The Platte Valley was nine years old, but was considered a number one boat. The wreck was valued at $45,000, and owned by Captain Blake and Captain Ben. Johnston, of St. Louis, and was insured in St. Louis offices for $30,000. Captain Blake and Isaacs acted with coolness, and did all in their power to save and provide for the passengers. Captain Tom Berry was a passenger on the Platte Valley, and did good service. He worked manfully, and by narrowly escaping the loss of him, also, of Captains Blake and Isaacs.

An officer of the steamer Silver Spray, when the Platte was going away, Indiana, writes to the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of January 18, as follows:

We are laying in a very good ice harbor, at the foot of Island No. 37. The ice is very heavy, but does not touch our boat. Some fifty or sixty loaded and empty coal barges are moored to our shore. Many of the barge crew, at a very great risk, landed a barge load of coal on the foot of the island. It is marked W. H. Brown, 20? Any one going down can oblige you to advertise it in his name—John Brown. The barge will be left in charge of Pat. Rigley, who will remain with it. The barge is also leaky, and there sunk.

The barge Avenger has been in the services of the ram "Avenger" have been ordered to keep a passage was open at the earliest possible moment, and that she continues to run in such heavy seasons, which will be but a day or two if the rivers are gorged above as reported.

Capt. Clark Barton arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday from St. Louis, and Captain Ed. Evans, of the Westmoreland, left there the same day for Pittsburgh.
